WHO WE ARE

The Cove Center for Grieving Children is a volunteer-based organization that has been providing free services to children and teens grieving the death of a parent or sibling. This is done through our Family Program, Camp Compassion, Cove in Schools and professional development.

The Cove provided services to over 500 families in the past year. Support from The Cove Kids' Classic allows The Cove programs to remain free of charge.

This is the 3rd year we are hosting The Cove Kids' Classic. Last year, there were 116 golfers that helped raise over $77,000.

With your help, we can sell out the course and raise $80,000!

OUR SHARED AUDIENCE

We serve CT and surrounding states. Attendees of our event are members of our community. As we look to the community to support us, our Cove family looks to give back to the same community. Your business could be one they know or are just learning about. We all need each other. This is an opportunity to increase community awareness of your business and the services it offers.

5 Reasons Why Grieving Children Need The Cove

The Cove's Programs Build Community

Individuals and families that attend Cove programs can connect with others who are going through a similar experience. The bonds that form often elicit the expression of emotions and facilitate grief work in a safe and trusting environment.

The Cove is a Vehicle for Hope & Healing

Through participation in our programs, grieving children and their families discover that they can manage and process the pain of grieving. Over time, families are able to heal by finding balance in the present and hope for the future.

Unresolved Grief Hurts Kids

When kids hurt, they hurt themselves and others. Their behavior very often puts them in situations which will have lifelong consequences. Grief is the price you pay for love, and when a significant person in our life dies the relationship doesn't end. The Cove helps normalize the complications of grief responses by providing kids with the necessary tools to go forward with healing and hope.

The Cove Provides Laughter

The Cove is amazing because although it deals with one of the most difficult journeys in life--the grief journey, there is so much laughter and healing in each night. Seeing kids of all ages laugh, socialize and play in the same two hours they are talking about the most difficult thing that has ever happened to them in their young life with other children is powerful.

Cove Kids Feel Connected

Childhood grief can feel isolating, like you're the only one who feels the way you do. At The Cove, grieving children will be with others who 'get it' and who understand. Knowing you're not the only one enduring hardship helps us feel supported and connected.
